. . . FOREWORD . . .

THAT this book may remain an everlasting monument to the friendship created through many happy hours of work, service and relaxation.

That Rindge creation does not end with the parting of the ways, but rather, expands and reflects with glory upon our school.

That friendships held sacred through our years of study may be brought to life in years to come.

That is the purpose embodied within these pages. If these are accomplished then our wishes will be realized.

MR. JOHN WILLIAM WOOD

MR. JOHN W. WOOD

AS WE REACH THE CONSUMATION of our high school career at Rindge our hearts are somewhat saddened as we realize we are to leave behind a friend who all through our stay at Rindge has devoted himself untiringly toward making our life here a pleasant and profitable one.

Mr. Wood your life has been a meritorious one, it has been a life filled with various objectives many of which are yet perhaps unfilled. As we leave we know that the objective you have set for our class is that we shall always carry high the torch of Rindge and that we shall not fail. And we assure you we will strive faithfully to gain our objective.

... DEDICATION ...

WE THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1934, do dedicate
this Year Book with deep appreciation for his kindness and co-operative spirit, to

MR. JOHN W. WOOD

His whole hearted support of our every venture has won for him the admiration and lasting friendship of the entire class.

MR. JAMES F. CONLIN

A MOST PRECIOUS BOND OF FRIENDSHIP has arisen between the graduating class of '34 and James F. Conlin, assistant head master. His appearance has always created an atmosphere of awe and a deep seated feeling of respect. Mutual co-operation was his only request of the students. His practical knowledge and understanding of boys has done much to aid our social welfare. Association with him has contributed much to the up building of our character. Men of Rindge will after recall his advice, "Work before Pleasure."

MR. FRANCIS T. McCABE

WE ARE ALL FAMILIAR with that old refrain "A Smile Will Go A Long Long Way." The title of this song speaks volumes, but more than that it sums up the admirable temperament of Mr. McCabe. No matter how serious a situation was presented to Mr. McCabe he met it and showed many of us the clear straight path to academic success. Without his advice many of us never would have reached our goal.

His decisions contain a note of finality, his countenance an element of pleasantry, and his disposition that element of loveliness which is essential to a successful leader.

The Class of 1934 wishes for Mr. McCabe many years of life filled with prosperity and happiness.

MR. JOHN J. GARVEY

THE HEAD OF OUR ENGLISH DEPARTMENT was a zealous, understanding councillor. He aided and taught us the beauties of expression and the formation of the language of our native land. Cultured conduct and good sportsmanship were moulded together with good English. In years to come we will recall and appreciate the refined teachings of this man. His paternal disciplinary methods will serve to strengthen the character and mentality of those who come in contact with him. The class of 1934 owes Mr. Garvey a deep debt of gratitude.

MR. CHARLES A. LINEHAN

MR. LINEHAN WILL ALWAYS BE REMEMBERED by our class as a man who was ever pleasant, considerate, and ready to assist any pupil who sought his aid. His understanding of boys is complete because as a boy he attended Rindge and later, when graduated from college, he returned to teach, and also coach the football team for a number of years. He was an inspiration for any pupil who came in contact with him in any subject.

Mr. Linehan, the class of 1934 wish you many years of health, happiness and success.

MR. EDWARD A. SULLIVAN

Head of the Oral English Department

FOR YEARS Rindge has been justly proud of all its theatrical productions. Each year has shown an advance in quality and finess over the preceding year until at last we are wondering if there is any end to the ability of the man behind the scenes, Mr. Edward A. Sullivan.

The Class of 1934 wishes him many years of life selfishly hoping that the Senior Class will long have his valuable direction of its Senior Drama.

MR. JOHN Y.
MURRAY

MR. JOHN Y. MURRAY WAS THE GUIDING LIGHT for those of us who tried to delve into the intricacies of electricity. As we review our four years at Rindge we fully appreciate the wonderful co-ordination of subjects in the electrical course. This is due to Mr. Murray's foresight and long hours of planning.

We, the class of 1934 hope that many more classes will have the benefit of your instruction and of your excellent supervision.

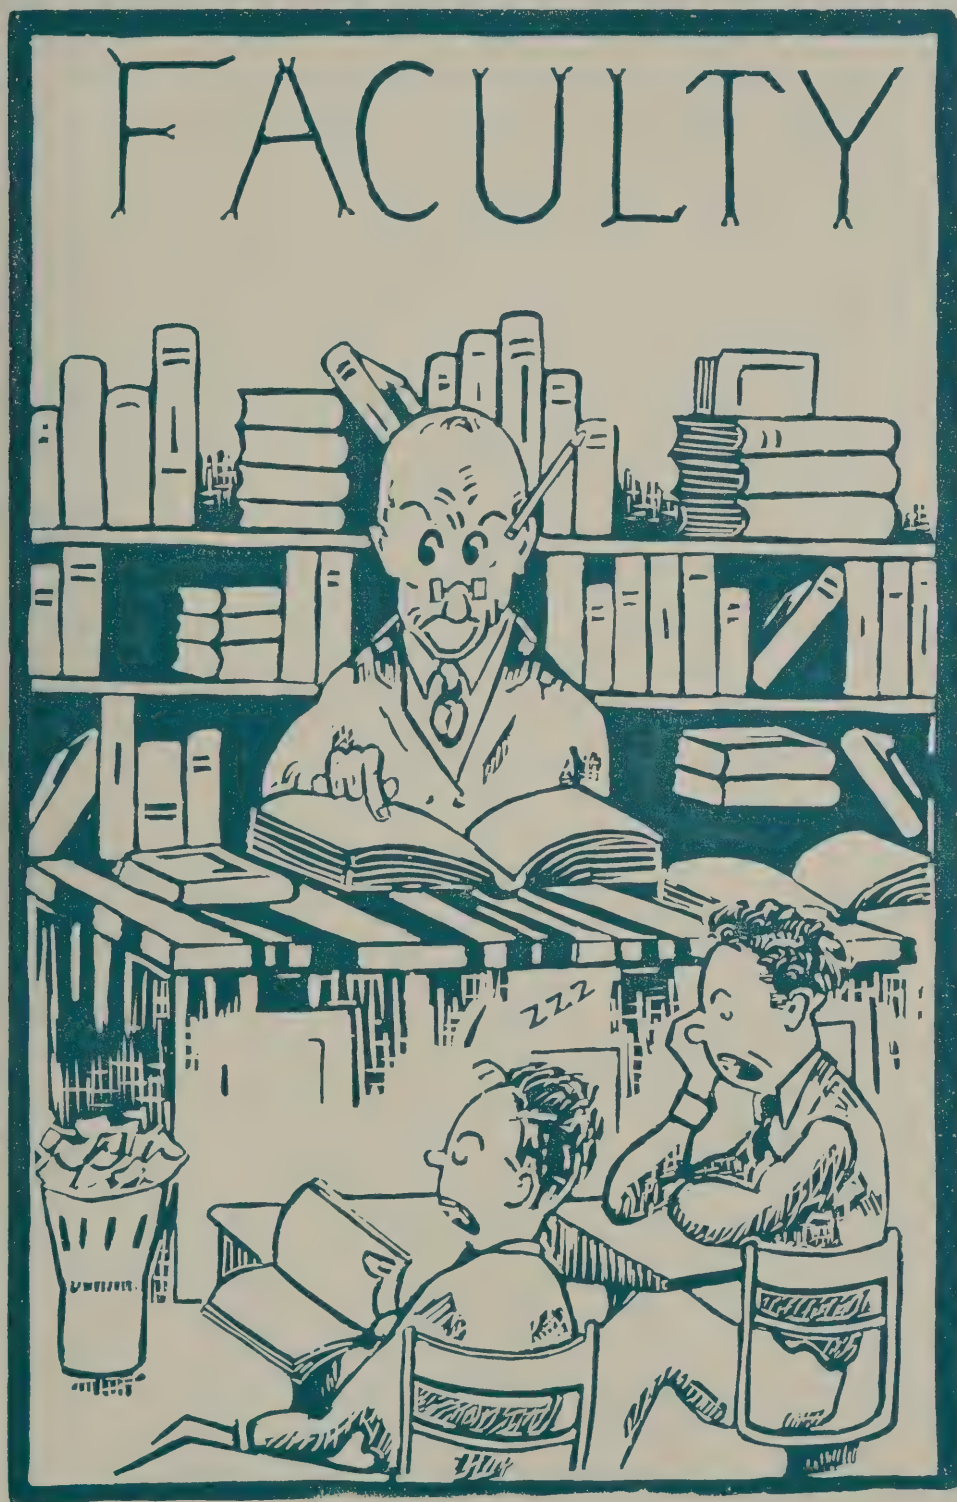

MR. HENRY C. LYNCH

Head of the Language Department

HOW MANY OF US dreaded meeting this man! No, not as Mr. Henry C. Lynch but as the man who was to try to grind into our none too soft heads the intricacies of the French language. Surely no man could be confronted with a more difficult task.

But once under Mr. Lynch's guidance we were not long in realizing that we had come in contact with a man who could make a difficult task pleasant, a man who could instill in his classes a desire to work and work hard. We found Mr. Lynch to be an exceptional teacher, a wise counsellor and we are sad to leave him behind.

Mr. Lynch, the class of 1934 sincerely hopes that you will long reign as head of our French Department and thus assure future classes of a wise, sagacious advisor.

. . . PROLOGUE . . .

*W*E HAVE YET TO STRIVE. And there will always be a foe worthy of our mettle—life. We go forth armed with the teachings we have received here at Rindge. Shielded, not by experience but by the bright memory of the pleasant days of our youth. They are our sword and halbred.

And when the fire of life begins to sink, this book will be revered not for the familiar faces of friends alone—but for the precious memories of the happiest expression of our youth.

SENIORS

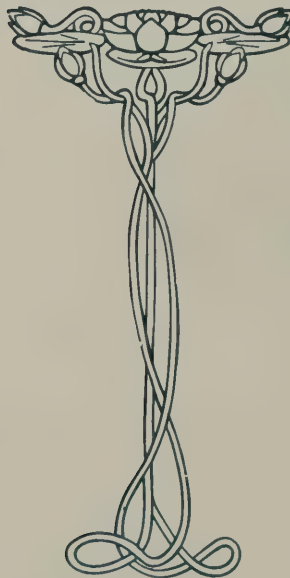

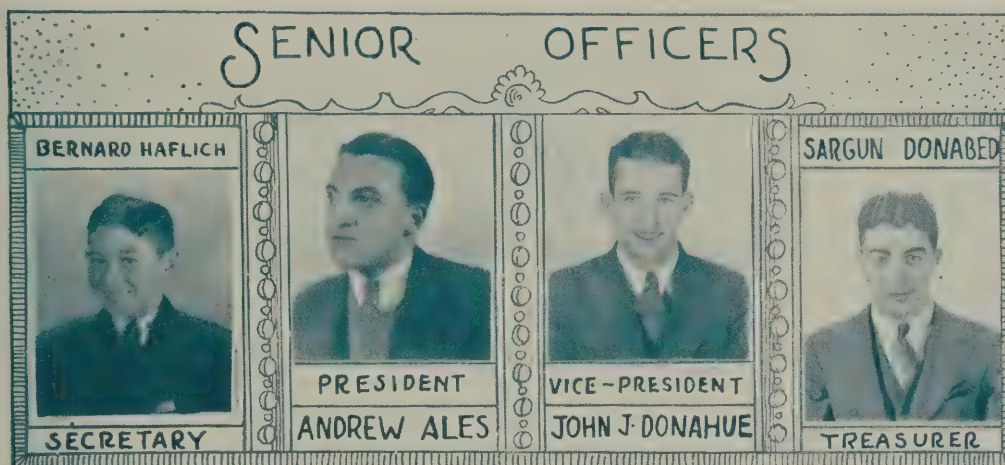

Four long years was the price we paid,
For four long years we were not dismayed,
The treasure is of the highest worth,
The greatest one of all the earth.

We see in Rindge our Alma Mater
The ever endless educational power.
For wisdom, talents and instructors lent
That made our passage resplendent.

Our former adventures are now clear
As we enter on this new and bright career.
A career made solely of human art
With no friendly nor throbbing heart.

... POST GRADUATES ...

JOHN J. DONAHUE, '34

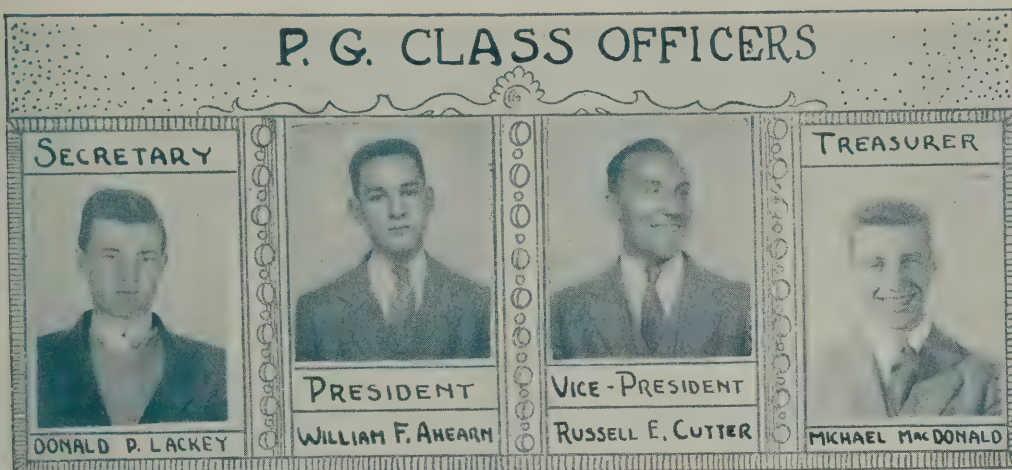

School, it is a fruitful seed,
As well as a knowledge key;
Maturing heat is all we need
To blossom skill upon the tree.

Its limbs and leaves bears no defeat;
Success its bearing surely claims,
For its iron-trunk will always beat
The blows the slacker deadly aims.

Another year we did abide
To pluck from Rindge its ripens fair;
The fruits to which she is justified
And the blossoms she will ever bear,

THE EDITOR'S PAGE

*T*IME SILENTLY AND IMPERCEPTIBLY STEALS AWAY, with the passing years, many of the impressions formed in high school. It slowly erodes the firm foundation of high school remembrances, until only a few old friendships remain as a monument to the associations which once filled entire lives. Knowledge acquired in the classroom can be recalled in later years from various sources, but the spirit, faith, and achievement, which are experienced in high school are not perpetuated by notes or text books.

The class of 1934 offers this edition of THE BROWNIE with the sincere hope that it will keep fresh and green the old associations, and that it will serve to record in a permanent way for the class, the friends of our high school days, the story of the past years.

MR. WILLIAM H. MAHONEY

WE, THE CLASS OF 1934 consider ourselves extremely fortunate in having for our friend and faculty advisor a man who had the interest of our class as close to his heart as any one of us. With a few hearty words of encouragement and cheer he sent us on our way to success in each and every class activity that we undertook.

We heard of him long before we reached our Senior year. We knew that our class activities would be safe in the hands of so wise and prudent a counsellor. When we reached our senior year we were not disappointed for, untiringly and unselfishly, Mr. Mahoney assisted us in each and every activity that we attempted.

When in future years we recall the friendships made during high school days, Mr. Mahoney, yours is one that will stand among the foremost in our memory. You were everybody's friend, each of us placed trust and confidence in you, and you, in turn, made our senior year one we will never forget.

We leave you behind with a deep regret but we do not want to deprive other classes of your counsellorship. Nevertheless, you will always be an honorary member of the Class of 1934.

CUT IN LINOLEUM BY JOHN ANANIS

.... HISTORY OF THE 1934 SENIOR CLASS

HEAVY, VELVET CURTAINS DRAPE THE ROOM. An abundance, almost a superfluity, of rich Oriental rugs cover the floor.

From a ruinous idol in corner, through its mouth, ears and nose, issue steadily, slow wisps of curling smoke, forming over the entire room a thick blanket of intoxicating fragrance. A flickering light sends its rays out to bathe the room in a soft, uncannily diffused light. An omnipresence of curious symbols, half-moons, and stars reveal the room as no ordinary room.

Into this strange room, of which the atmosphere is so heavily laden with the smell of incense and so suggestive of the Far East, timidly steps a young man. Awed by the vast difference existent between the two worlds, that which he has just left and is immediately outside of the room and that which he has just entered and is within, he stands motionless. Presently the swish of heavy draperies announces the arrival of another into the room. The young man beholds standing before him a tall, lean, dark figure swathed in the conventional robes of the Far East. It is Egdnis the Great! Egdnis, the world reknown; Egdnis whose predictions are known to have been always infallibly realized and whose versions of past events always correct.

With a polite nod of his head accompanied by a barely perceptible suggestion of a bow, the dark figure asks slowly, evenly, and with a decided accent but in perfect English "What can I do for you, sir?"

The young man not yet quite separated from his awe stammers. "Why, er -I, er he, er."

"Yes?" prompts the crystal-gazer, interrupting what had the earmarks of a perfect conjugation.

"Well, you see," at length the youth manages to reply, "I am the Editor of the Rindge Year Book, but please don't hold that against me. I have been assigned the writing of the history of the Class of 1934, and I can't remember some of the thing that happened in the four years. Do you think you can help me recall them?"

"That," he smiles, pausing effectively after the word, "is my specialty. Come."

So saying he leads the young man to a small, queerly shaped table upon which rests a shining glass globe, coruscating even in that subdued lighting.

"Sit," he requests, pointing to a chair opposite which is another chair in which he himself sits.

The young man having complied, the necromancer commences his mysterious prefatory ceremonies.

Then he speaks, slowly: "The image begins to form. I see a group of youngsters, a happy, healthy, intelligent-looking group. They are waiting before a door, waiting to be admitted into a big, red-brick building."

Yes, now the young man remembers. The events come rushing to his mind as the crystal-gazer tell of them. That was the fall of 1930. The group of youngsters was the Freshman Class of which he was one; the brick building, the old Washington building. Happy was that year spent there, the first year at high! And a member of a fine class did he find himself. Even in the Freshman year the class of 1934 displayed its superiority as a class. Its members on the Honor Roll numbered many and their marks were high. On the football gridiron romped two of its men, "Moose" Manning and Charlie Lavoie. On the basketball floor Wally Kishkis reigned supreme. On the Register Staff, Eliot Smythe was Freshman Editor. Why, even in the lowly tug-o-war the class exhibited its fighting prowess by toppling over the sophomores in less than ten seconds. Then came the summer.

"The image fades." It is the voice of the sage. "Another replaces it."

The same group of boys now marched under the appellation of "Sophomores." The summer vacation, it seems, served only to intensify the ardor and alacrity with which the boys tackled their sundry and varied enterprises. Once again an abundance of names was noticed on the Honor Roll. On the football team were two veterans, Manning and Lavoie, plus that big, burly, bundle of human flesh and muscles, Chet Smith plus the boy who always came up for more, Paul "Doc" Burgess which put together could not possibly have equalled anything less than a very successful season. The boys who shot from all parts of the floor that big heavy ball called a basketball to earn for the team a reputation as one of the best teams in the state were Wally Kishkis, Mel Byington and Frankie Ruggieri. The class was also well represented on the baseball, hockey and track teams. But do not get the impression that the talents of the boys were restricted to sports. They were dilettantes in every sense of the word. In the literary field, Eliot Smythe, as Sophomore Editor, gave of his literary genius to the Register. In the realm of dramatics, Jimmy Flynn displayed himself as a natural born Thespian by the testimony of his acting in the 1932 Senior Drama, "The Cat and the Canary." In the melodious world of music, Emmett McNulty and Arthur Martellucci, exponents of trumpet and piano music, respectively copped the honors.

.... HISTORY OF THE 1934 SENIOR CLASS

All this took place at a time of strife and unfamiliar environment.

While the old Rindge buildings were being razed, the sophomores were forced to consort with the Freshmen at the Harvard, Felton, and Longfellow School buildings.

Yet this class, always acclivious, remained unperturbed.

The class of 1934 now came under the appellation of the Junior Class. Its next move on that checker board called Cambridge was the great jump from the Harvard Grammar School building to the Harvard College Biological Laboratories building, where the Class of 1934 consorted for a good part of the school year and where many activities of this banner year took place.

About the first event of any importance was the election of four good class officers, an indispensable part of any organization. From a host of candidates, the Juniors judiciously and discriminately selected for their president, the able executive Andrew Ales; for their vice-president, the equally efficient Emmet McNulty; for their treasurer, the unerring counter of all currency, Gilbert Schipani; and for their secretary, the towering giant, Benny Haflich.

Concomitant with such a group of leaders, there followed as successful a year as Rindge will ever have the opportunity of witnessing.

Representation on the football team was gratifying to say the least. "Moose" Manning, Chet Smith, Charlie Lavoie, Mel Byington, and "Socks" Donabed were responsible for the extremely successful season which that 1933 team enjoyed.

This year proved also to be a banner year in every sense of the word for the literati. In the little square in the upper left hand corner of the second page of the Register where the names of the staff are designated, one glimpsed the nominal appendages of David Greene, who, as advertising manager de luxe accounted for most of the shekels which meant the life of the Register; and of Arthur Martellucci, who, as Junior Editor held the dubious honor of slinging the proverbial sod a la Winchell at his classmates. Writing of a more serious mien won second prize for Edgar Breed in a Thanksgiving Day essay contest conducted by the school publication. About a month later, in the annual Christmas Story contest conducted also by the Register, the pen of Arthur Martellucci won second prize.

Artists were numerous this year. On the Register Staff listed as regular Staff Artists were John Ananis and Al Petitto. However, there were many regular cartoon contributions from other artists of no little note, such as George Melnik, Casimir Sterpinsky, Clifford Geary, and George Hamilton.

Among the wielders of pen and brush, the well-liked Johnnie Ananis stood out as the boy wonder.

By this time, the basketball season had got well under way. Among the player were again Wally Kishkis, Mel Byington, and Frankie Ruggieri.

.... HISTORY OF THE 1934 SENIOR CLASS

Meanwhile, the $1,500,000 dream, the new Rindge building had materialized and the classes had been established in their proper places.

What served as an introduction for class functions in the new building was the Senior Drama, the "Ghost Train," in which Jimmy Flynn gave vent to his marvelous histrionic abilities.

Oh, but those Junior Socials! The first real Junior Class enterprise was its Junior Promenade held April 18 in the Alfred Lassman Memorial Gymnasium.

At the Prom, everyone, in the parlance of today, "had a good time." Feet moved gaily, music of the Boston University Dance Orchestra flared forth harmoniously, bodies swayed rhythmically, girlish laughter rang out delightfully—who could help but have a good time?

The noteworthy success of the promenade was laid, and rightly so, to the judicious supervision of the Faculty Advisor Mr. William Mahoney, and to the supporting committee headed by the class officers and including Arthur Martellucci, Dimitri Nagornink, Elden Downes, Fred Clews, Joe Graham, Robert Skinner, James Turner, R. McIver, Charlie Babson, Richard Partridge, Morton Conant, William Dwyer, John Kelsey, and William Nolan.

The second important Junior Class undertaking was Junior Night, a product of the indefatigable Mr. Edward Sullivan and the ever-helping Mr. Mahoney. Junior Night, a revival of an annual custom at Rindge which had been dropped during all the turmoil of shifting belongings from one place to another, consisted of the offerings of a group of public speakers and the presentation of a three-act mystery drama entitled "The Man in the Shadow." Participating in the public speaking contest were Jimmy Flynn and George Zeitlen, both of whom delivered their selection with great feeling. "The play's the thing," once said Shakespeare and Bill Nolan and Augie Breault evidently rendered their acquiescence for they chose to display how much they knew of the art of make-believe by appearing in the play.

Finally, graduation of the class of 1933 popped out of the corner and the colors of the school were presented to the Junior Class to guard and honor.

The Junior officers acted as ushers at the Senior Prom and gained some valuable experience for this year.

Again the slow, monotonous words of the necromancer are heard. "The picture disappears and again another takes its place."

It is of the Senior Year of which he next speaks. Again the first thing of importance to take place at Rindge was the election of class officers. In what was probably the most heated of all political battles at Rindge, Andy Ales was found to have triumphed over Jimmy Flynn for the office of the presidency. Filling the other forensic offices were Johnnie Donahue as vice-president, Benny Haflich as secretary and Sargon Donabed as treasurer. After this came the football season in which shone with astral brightness Captain "Moose" Manning, Chet Smith (incidentally, Chet made the All-Scholastic team on two of the leading newspapers of Boston), "Socks" Donabed, Mel Byington, and Charlie Lavoie.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

AS THE TIME DRAWS NEAR to the end of our stay at Rindge we naturally wonder what is going to become of our fellow classmates in later life. In order to get a glimpse of these hidden matters we went to consult a very eminent and well-known crystal-gazer who told us that she would do her utmost to help us. She arranged an appointment for us for the following day and also told us to bring along pencils and pads in order to make notes of her revelations.

The next day we arrived at her residence and were ushered into her sanctum. The room was beautifully furnished and a pall of fragrant incense created a weird and awe-inspired feeling. A soft light hung directly above the richly carved table which supported the crystal ball. After we had secured seats for ourselves our hostess took her place before the crystal ball and recited a few incantations before she began her work. She finally raised her head, gazed into the crystal for some time and then in a slow monotone revealed what she saw.

During the recital we made notes of what we heard and later put them together and the following is a brief account of what the future holds in store for the class of "34",

A. J. Ales will be the future President of the United States. His cabinet will be made up of the following.

SECRETARY OF STATE	J. G. ZEITLAN
SECRETARY OF WAR	J. C. CHEVONE
SECRETARY OF TREASURY	C. H. RUSSELL
ATTORNEY GENERAL	D. S. GREENE
POSTMASTER GENERAL	J. J. DONAHUE
SECRETARY OF NAVY	A. J. RICO
SECRETARY OF INTERIOR	R. C. McIVER
SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE	W. A. DYER
SECRETARY OF COMMERCE	A. I. SMITH

Nelson Ambush will open up a banana stand outside the new school.

Jimmy Boudreau will be heard on the radio playing sweet chords to the millions of maidens in America.

Bill Allen will follow his father's footsteps and become a milkman.

Leon Braithwaite has been thinking of opening up a dancing school for the backward members of our Alma Mater.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

PROPHET

J. T. Benson will work for a shaving soap firm. He will be one of those fellows who lie about how their soap gives you a cool shave.

Edgar A. Breed will be an aviator for a film company. He will always end in a crash and the heroine will finally marry him.

Jap Broussard will go to Tech and achieve fame as a plumber.

Paul Burgess will spend his days traveling to the distant corners of the earth in search of beauty.

Mel Byington will play hide and seek with the government when he becomes a millionaire. Income taxes are a great bother you know.

W. Calender is going to enter that circle of popular men who attend to the dead. He always was a cheerful fellow.

Bob Campbell has an idea that he will someday own an orchestra. I hope that by that time crooning will be classified as a crime.

J. Chevone requests that his future life be kept in the dark because he is still putting the pennies under the parlor carpet.

We all sincerely hope that J. Clegg's fish business will be profitable.

It is fortunate that Cauchon is coming back to Rindge to teach because he is so attached to the place that he may be seen at the 101 club any day after school.

V. Cecolini will become a doctor because he thinks that all nurses are as pretty as those shown on the silver screen.

Now that the real liquor is back M. Conant has decided to make a few semolians by going into the milk business.

F. C. Clews will be P. W. Manning's campaign manager when he runs for Mayor of Cambridge. J. C. Haverty will be the future assessor under this regime.

Mr. D'Agostino will always excell in singing as he did at Rindge. He is one of the best bathroom singers around and hopes to continue in his capacity.

Dewey Dilworth will go to Squantum to show the Navy how to fly a kite. He spent four years at Rindge trying to get airplane dope off his hands.

J. Donahue will have a tough job dodging contracts to go to the big league's because of his famous whiffle ball.

Drew has decided to become a cop who rides around sporting in one of those rah rah suits that have been recently adopted by our State police.

J. W. Downes will have his face lifted so he can go to Hollywood and do his stuff.

We will probably hear Jimmy Flynn making his campaign speeches around the city in the near future. He will probably tell us how we can be paid without working for it.

T. A. Forrest will be a mathematical genius if he continues on the way he has been going. We will let him fill out our income tax blanks.

If Walter Gould has his wish he will become one of the greatest printers that has ever exaggerated a story. He may some day be a second Hearst.

Joe Graham will be General Graham of the horse marines, to you fellows, after he receives his sheep skin from West Point.

E. J. Gedrocz will probably announce his intentions to become a radio announcer in the near future. He has been practicing talking into a coffee strainer lately.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

C. N. Geary will join the circus and display his talents to every one else's girl. His smile will charm them to the point of leaving the old boy friend flat.

W. S. Hall will go to South Cupcake and settle down on his dude ranch far from the worries of the rest of the world.

George Hamilton will be a dishwasher in the services of our fair Harvard. His records at juggling dishes will probably remain intact for generations.

Benny Haflich will become a newspaper man unless he is rescued by a maiden who knows what hours newspaper men get home.

John Hasset will continue his business of repairing radios. When the firm spreads out he will visit the school in a Rolls Royce.

A. Henderson has set his mind on becoming a magician. His feats of magic have already astounded many of his teachers at Rindge.

If Obie Johnson doesn't have a few thousand dollars in the bank the young lady in the vicinity of the Week's Bridge won't allow him to wish he was single again.

When J. H. Kelsey becomes a member of the bar, we will all go to him with our matrimonial troubles.

Bull Kimball wants to become a printer but his teachers are urging him to be a plumber because he loves the sound of melodious steam pipes clanging in a quiet room.

Teddy Larkin will qualify for the Olympics if he continues to run to every affair that he is invited.

Bill and Bob Larkin intend to join their pal in Panama. They say they will have many adventures with natives if they don't watch their steps.

F. D. Lupo will become a muscle builder because he is constantly buying magazines that advertise that industry.

Paul Lynam will become an artist of reknown because his sketches are unique in themselves. At last you will have something original Paul.

A. Lowery will go to Africa to study about fossils. We know that he will meet with success because he is a very ambitious chap.

C. A. Landi, L. F. McAuliffe, and J. R. Henderson in time will be great architects.

H. J. Makowski will attempt to organize a chemical company with N. A. Anderson, E. M. Gardner, and D. Shaulis as his assistant chemists.

A. E. Murray, H. Rosenquist, and D. W. Nargornick will be on the stage in a singing and dancing act.

T. F. Mareno will be a boxer. His pugilistic ability is astounding even to those who have been boxing eggs for years.

J. J. Melinchuck is all set to be a fireman. We know how easily he gets smoked up when a belle gets on his shoulder.

E. J. Nechaj will become a furniture mover. He will contract with the student body of Rindge, thus assuring himself of complete failure.

J. F. O'Hearn will operate a dairy farm and some day we will read his name in the Register as selling the milk you drink in the cafeteria.

H. O'Leary, J. E. Poole, H. F. Terrio, and P. Van Stray will in the future be traveling salesmen.

J. Ohannessian and B. C. Murray will be the next Ed. Wynn and Baron Munchausen respectively.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

E. D. Proctor will write of his experiences as a lover of music. He will also distinguish himself as a superb harmonica player.

Stanley Pryzmont will become a printer of school exams. This industry is dangerous in the respect that he will be rather unpopular with the younger generations.

A. C. Pettito's artistic work will win him recognition anywhere. He can always be counted on to sketch a picture of himself if you want it.

E. B. Rebello isn't worrying what the future has in store for him because he knows that his good looks will carry him through.

J. Santasky will become a sea captain and spend his days carrying people around the world.

M. F. Sarfield will be a druggist. This position will make him second only to a doctor because he will have to tell certain people how to get well the morning after.

J. P. Sheehan will become a salesman. He will be one of those unsung heroes who have to put up with all sorts of retorts.

Leo Sheehan will spend his days driving a taxi about the streets of the city. We know that he will succeed because his smile will attract the fair sex.

W. E. Sheehan will be a bricklayer. His dexterity at the position will make him famous.

Charlie Shimkus will manage a grocery store in the neighborhood of the school. He has already made plans for three or four but he will content with one for the present.

C. R. Siccone's ambition is to be a shoe maker. He realizes that unless people return to sandals that this business will be a success.

L. H. Smith will be a cowboy and will appear with rodeos all over the country.

R. Skinner will be a baker. His pies and cakes will be the cause of many a case of acute indigestion.

A. Sullivan will shed his blood for his country as a sergeant in the Marines.

E. P. Szulewski's ambition will be to aspire to the great pinnacle of dignity known as a butler. He will cater to Fifth Avenue's cut glass heroes.

W. G. Trapilo will go into the cruel world and write books which will bring tears to many a wayward lad.

E. A. Walsh will invent a new medicine for ridding children of all kinds of diseases. We know that he will win the Nobel prize for this humane invention.

Doug. Walsh will be a chemist and will achieve fame for exterminating mosquitos and other insects.

J. E. Walsh will be the city's sanitary inspector. This job will not net him enough income to get one of those pests called a wife.

J. R. Whites future is not known to even himself but if nature doesn't change him he will someday preach from a pulpit.

H. Tufts, L. F. Terrio and A. H. Targonski will try to invent a machine that will take them to Venus.

C. Wilkin will go to Chicago and open up a slaughter house which will not give out the delightful aroma of the one in the vicinity of Cambridge.

J. F. Wilkin will be a butcher and will cooperate with C. Wilkin in establishing a business throughout New England.

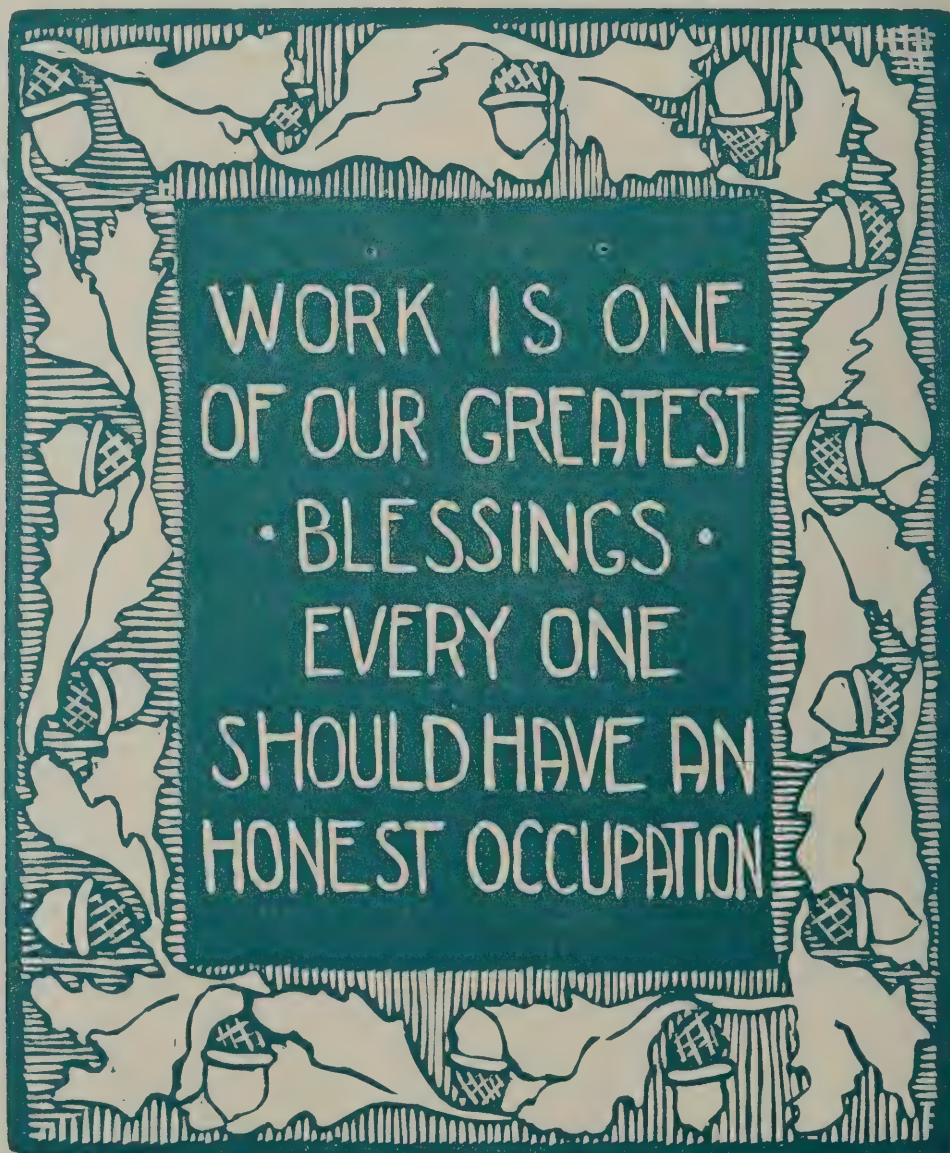

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

P. V. Wilkalis daring in the style of clothing will be something that all the other young blades will envy. He will probably come up and see us sometime.

W. C. Wirwicz will be a big movie producer and have J. O. Clegg as his orchestra leader, F. W. Illian as a singer and A. J. Martellucci as his featured pianist.

Many other faces and familiar places did we see in the crystal ball but not plainly enough to discern clearly what was going on. We knew however, that those not accounted for were eminently successful in various fields.

IN THE MANTLE OF THE DAWN

TUNE: "Till We Meet Again"

IN THE MANTLE of the dawn,
While the birds sing forth the morn,
Down beneath the sky so blue
Stands old Rindge so firm and true;
There she stands for truth and right,
Sending forth her rays of light
Clad in robes of majesty
Rindge, we sing of thee!

BE THOU OUR guide and stay
Leading us from day to day:
Make us true and brave and strong
Ever firm to battle wrong:
When from thee we're gone away
May we strive for thee each day
As we sail life's restless sea
Rindge, we sing of thee!

ALMA MATER

VERSES BY EDMUND E. POWERS, JR.

MUSIC BY JOHN B. WHORISKEY

RINDGE; thus glorious mother,
Loyal sons thy praises sing
To thee, as to no other,
Gratefully their homage bring
To express our devotion
Now our voices rise;
True in vict'ry's hour,
Faithful in defeat,
Rindge, our Alma Mater
Hail! Rindge to thee.

RINDGE! 'Tis hard to sunder
Ties that chain our thoughts to thee
Words that swell like thunder
Testify our loyalty.
We will always treasure
Memories of you.
Old ties e're renewing
Ev'ry year returning
Rindge, our Alma Mater
Hail! Rindge, to Thee!

RINDGE'S WARRIORS

TUNE: "Men of Our America"

ALL HAIL to Rindge's warrior's
Long may they reign supreme
A husky bunch of warriors,
And they'll sure clean up your team
Out on the field of conflict
They bow to no team's skill
And like the men of might they are
They fight with right good will:

OUR COLORS are the Brown and White
We never haul them down
The Brown stands for the "roast" we give
Our opponents when in town.
And as the tide of battle sweeps
Their team right off the field
Don't forget the Brown and White
Whose word is never yield

CHORUS

Then give a hearty cheer for Rindge — Rah!
Rah!
May she never taste defeat
We'll never say "die" but
Up men and try for the Glory of old Rindge.

In Memoriam

As each year closes we glance back and see that, despite the fact numerous joys came our way during this time, numerous sorrows came also. The Senior Class wishes to extend to the following members of the faculty its sincere sympathy for their losses and hope that the future will bring its share of sunshine;

To MR. CHARLES O'CONNOR on the death of his dear mother.

To MR. WILLIAM H. MAHONEY on the death of his beloved father.

To MR. ABBOTT PAINE on the death of his wife's mother.

May the Almighty in His goodness see fit to heal quickly the soreness, the blight that we know must exist because of these losses.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1934

Now all men by these presents:

That we, the class of 1934 of the Rindge Technical School in the city of Cambridge, county of Middlesex and the state of Massachusetts, being in full possession of all our faculties, now do solemnly construct and draw up this, our last will and testament, and declare all other wills to be void and without the power to tend legal action.

We unhesitatingly and duly appoint Mr. William H. Mahoney as executive of this, our will, as the said Mr. Mahoney is skilled in the art of executing not only "wills" but even the minds and bodies of his subjects. We the class of 1934, trust that these requests will be earnestly and faithfully carried out.

First: We bequeath to our successors, the Class of 1935, the great honor and prestige which is an attribute of the Senior Class.

Second: We leave to said successors, all momentary visions of excellent marks, all night-mares and torture brought on by failures, term tests, and college-board exams.

Third: To our successors we leave all the hand-carved desks, uninitialed books, and all the "properties" which they will use as Seniors.

Fourth: We devise and bequeath our autographic expert to all those unfortunate beings who experience difficulty in signing notes, excuses or report cards.

Fifth: We leave an entire set of movie apparatus, donated by the Class of 1933. This wonderful machine had not been exhibited while we were students.

Sixth: To the Class of 1935 we leave a gift which they will need—an undeniable acumen for carrying on social activities.

Seventh: We leave the Rho Kappa Phi, a fraternity composed mainly of seniors. May you get a bid for this wonderful organization.

Eighth: We beneficently donate the financial profits derived from the "Thursday Afternoon Concerts" to a fund for obtaining the following greatly needed accessories.

1. An annual subscription to "Whiz Bang," "Ballyhoo," and "Life." The magazines shall be housed in the Library in charge of Mr. Haugh.

2. One complete grandstand for the gym. Mr. Lynch often complained of the fact that when the two teams got in the house, half the stands were filled.

3. An elevator for Seniors so that those residing on the upper floors may get in on time for a change.

4. One pencil sharpener for each room in the school.

5. A complete "First Aid Kit" for "Doc" Cohen.

6. A copy of "How to Grow Tall" for each freshman. These volumes should be distributed during the last year of grammar school to each incoming student and a volume of "The Respect Due to One's Elders" to accompany each copy of aforesaid words.

7. A volume of Drumonds famous treatise on Love, entitled "The Greatest Thing in the World" for each member of the faculty.

8. An electric eraser so that Mr. Linehan may rest in peace. He likes to do the writing but abhors erasing the board.

Ninth: We leave the "Harmonica Ensemble", Band, Glee Club, Camera Club, Rho Kappa Phi, Orchestra, and Drum Corps. All were formed whilst we were Seniors.

Tenth: Lastly we leave all those things not yet discovered; all the great things that we have accomplished; our excellent reputation; our deep sorrow for all our successors; all our petty worries, troubles, debts, and the excruciating pleasure of preserving our dear memory.

Realizing that we quickly approach the 11th of June in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty four, at the Rindge Technical School of Cambridge, Massachusetts, we wish these directions be executed immediately and with the greatest of concern.

With trembling hand, we attach our most noble signature.

THE ABOVE LIST SHOWS the line-up and batting order of our school paper. As we look back over our four years we realize the hollow spot that would have been in our school life if it had not been for this paper. Those of us who had the foresight have the copies for each year in order and some day will have them bound so that in years to come we can have at our elbow a panorama of our high school days.

THE TEAM THIS YEAR enjoyed a fairly sucessful season, winning three games, losing four and tying two. The team faced the strongest teams in the state and in no one of its losses were they decisively outplayed.

We opened the 1933 season against Waltham, one of the best teams in the state, and lost by a score of 7—2. On the following Saturday the team held Haverhill to a scoreless tie which was a notable achievement. Although decisively outplaying Revere, we were forced to accept a 7—6 defeat. On Columbus Day we played and outplayed our traditional rival, Cambridge High and finished on the long end of a 14— 0 score giving us a second leg on the American Legion trophy. We then went to Brookline and successfully defeated the "Wealthy Towners" 19—6. The following game was a "do or die affair." A victory over Newton meant the championship of the league but the "Gods of Fate" failed to smile on us and we were obliged to accept a 6—0 defeat. We then journeyed to Lowell where we suffered an unexpected defeat 12—7. Our next game was with the New Bedford team, which was undefeated in three years. New Bedford was last beaten by Rindge in 1930. On a field of snow and slush, we pushed our way through for a 13—12 victory. On Thanksgiving, we were host to Somerville and both teams fought evenly. The game ended in a 0—0 tie.

The team was led by Captain Paul "Moose" Manning, our charging guard. Other outstanding players were: Felix Micelli, star forward passer; Mel Byington, our star kicker; "Socks" Donabed, our fleet-footed half-back; Charlie Lavoie, our left guard; and last but not least, "Chet" Smith, our all-scholastic giant end.

This year's team was coached by Mr. Metivier who was assisted by Mr. Smith. Mr. Metivier, the head coach, succeeding Mr. Murphy who chose basketball. Mr. Lynch again showed convincingly why he is considered the best faculty manager in New England.

MR. WILFRED J. METIVIER

HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

MR. METIVIER IN HIS FIRST YEAR as head coach showed that his future teams will be up among the leaders. This year his team faced the strongest opposition in the state and no opponent defeated them decisively in fact the Rindge team was in the ball-game until the final whistle blew.

The class of '34 is strong in its opinion that Mr. Metivier will be a producer of champions. We only ask that he produce one or two football players of the same calibre as he himself was while a student at Rindge.

MR. THOMAS E. SMITH

ASSISTANT FOOTBALL COACH

NO HEAD COACH CAN BE SUCCESSFUL unless he has at least one capable assistant. Mr. Metivier was indeed fortunate in the election of Mr. Smith as assistant coach, because he brought with him that cheery smile and will to win which he transplanted into the hearts of the entire football squad. Mr. Smith, we the class of '34, extend to you a vote of confidence for the splendid work you did during the past football season.

THE CLASS OF '34 WAS HONORED with four out of the six regular positions on the team.

Sargun "Socks" Donabed, played at right defence and hit them like Eddie Shore. Jack Britt, played at left defence and did great deal of the puck carrying.

George Derosiers, a sophomore, played at center and was the outstanding member of the team.

Jack Callahan, played at right wing and was one of the speediest skaters in the league.

"Bud" Kramer, a sophomore, was guardian of the goal, and opponents found it difficult to get the rubber past him.

Captain-elect "Eddie" Skinner, reserve left wing played a good steady game. Albert J. Rico defense player was injured early in the season and could not continue.

Other players who saw plenty of action on the sextet were: "Moose" Manning a goalie, and Tom Collins, a center.

The team was again coached by Mr. James "Sonny" Foley. The team play developed by this capable mentor showed itself as the season progressed.

1934 BASEBALL TEAM

OUR BASEBALL TEAM THIS YEAR hopes to make a strong bid for the Suburban League Championship. At the present time Rindge is first in the league standing having beaten Brookline and Newton. In both games the Rindge boys fought their way from behind to win. With such a hard fighting team Rindge should have a very successful season.

The outstanding Seniors on the team this year are John Paratore our star pitcher, John Callahan, our right fielder, Jack Britt, our left fielder, and "Socks" Donabed, our second baseman. These seniors are the backbone of the team. They helped Mr. McLaughlin keep alive that fighting Rindge spirit which is so typical of all Rindge teams.

As this book goes to press the team seems headed for another Suburban League Championship. Mr. McLaughlin is to be congratulated on the splendid showing of the team.

1934 BASKETBALL TEAM

AS USUAL THE RINDGE BASKETBALL TEAM went through another successful season. Rindge again won the Suburban League Title and also the city championship by defeating C.H.L.S. in the final fray. This year's record shows that Rindge won 11 out of 15 games.

The first game of the year was played at Revere. Here our team romped off to a good start by winning 41-23. Our next opponent was Winthrop. This was the first contest to be played in the new Al Lassman Gym. In this game Rindge came out victoriously to the tune of 39-25. Traveling to Brookline our team again came out on top by the score of 24-23. Our team continued its winning streak by defeating Newton 26-18, thereby winning its second Suburban League game. Journeying to Chelsea, the Brown and White met its first defeat in five games by the score, 29-20. In another winning spurt the team trounced Revere, Somerville and Newton, 37-17, 32-18, 40-26, respectively. The team journeyed to Dummer Academy and lost 23-16.

Entertaining the strong Chelsea High School quintet, the Rindge team lost one of the hardest games of the season by the score of 27-25. Again Rindge showed its true colors and defeated Brookline, Winthrop, and Somerville, 30-15, 32-20, 33-20, respectively.

Rindge met Fitchburg in the first round of the Tech Tournament and in a very exciting game was defeated by the score of 33-25. Chelsea won this tournament, so one can readily see that Rindge rated with the best teams in the State.

The players of this year's quintet were Captain Mel Byington, one of the outstanding players in the State; Captain-elect Joe Watson, our star forward; Frank Ruggieri, our sharp-shooter; Wally Kishkis, a dashing and play-making center; Vito Robak, an excellent defensive guard; and Jackson, Munroe, Ray, Buttaro, and Suckiel, team reserves. Mr. Murphy again deserves all the credit for developing a team that was noted for its smartness and aggressiveness. Mr. Lynch was helped considerably by our manager, Norman Johnson.

This year's quintet was one of the classiest in the State. Mr. Murphy's teams have now won three Suburban League Championships in a row, and played in four Tech Tournaments in succession. Though not a finalist, they were not a disappointment. His five was also selected to play at the Newport Tourney, for the New England title.

MR. THOMAS J. MURPHY

BASKET-BALL COACH

EACH YEAR WITH A SURPRISING REGULARITY our basketball team is considered one of the best in the state so much so that we are apt to take too much for granted. We are apt to forget that there is a definite reason why our basketball team are "up there" and that definite reason is Coach Thomas J. Murphy. He is without a doubt a producer of champions. This year's team was a good team at the beginning of the year but he made them a great team.

Mr. Murphy the class of 1934 wishes you long and continued success.

MR. HENRY C. LYNCH

FACULTY MANAGER

DURING THE PAST FOUR YEARS we have witnessed many of our neighboring schools curtail and cut down on athletics expenses. Here at Rindge we sailed smoothly along as though no depression existed. The reason for this was Mr. Henry C. Lynch. In good times Mr. Lynch prepared for poor times and now he is preparing for good times. Rindge is indeed fortunate in having this astute man at the head of its athletics and the class as a whole wish him long and continued success.

1934 TRACK TEAM

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE VOTED TO RE-ESTABLISH TRACK in the Cambridge Schools this year and appointed Mr. John Murphy and Mr. Thomas Duffy as coaches. These two men were outstanding runners while at Holy Cross.

Instead of each school, Rindge and Latin having a team representing each school, the School Committee voted to combine the teams into one.

The outstanding Rindge fellows on this combined team were: John A. Snook Louis Pacheco, Paul Manning, R. Ridley, Chet Smith, J. Chandler, R. Bernard, and K. Addison. Many others will undoubtedly star on this team, but as our book goes to press no meets have been held so we hope those fellows whose names were omitted will not feel slighted.

MR. WILLIAM P. McLAUGHLIN BASEBALL COACH

WE OF THE SENIOR CLASS believe that Rindge is indeed fortunate in having for its baseball coach a man who has such a wealth of experience and knowledge that he can impart to the boys of his squad. Rindge has always done well in baseball and we feel that this success will continue as long as Mr. McLaughlin directs our baseball activities.

MR. JAMES H. FOLEY HOCKEY COACH

MR. FOLEY HAS COACHED OUR HOCKEY TEAMS for the past seven years and his teams have displayed that same fighting spirit that has been traditional to all Rindge teams. Although Rindge has not been as successful in hockey as in other branches of sports we believe that this was due entirely to the fact that Mr. Foley did not have the necessary material. We wish Mr. Foley success and good luck in the years that are to come.

1934 SENIOR DRAMA

Second Row:—DONALD L. MURRAY, HARRY L. WOODWARD, WALTER F. NOWOSIELSKI, FRANCIS A. WILCINSKI, ERNEST C. AMERAL, WILLIAM A. DWYER, JOHN J. MELNICHUK, BERNARD P. LYNAM, ROBERT C. MCIVER, ARTHUR I. SMITH, DIMITRI W. NAGORNIUK.

Third Row:—EDWARD K. DENNEHY, NICHOLAS MARTELLUCCI, PAUL W. MANNING, MARIO ROSCIO, EDWARD E. BARBER, ELMER C. BRIGHAM, JOSEPH CONNOLLY, REGINALD BEWES, CHARLES J. LAVOIE, JOHN F. WILKINS.

RINDGE TECHNICAL SCHOOL HAS MANY SPLENDID TRADITIONS, but none of which we are more genuinely proud than the annual senior drama. With the passage of time this spectacular event has continued to gain in popular favor until now it seems that the school year could not be complete without it. So far as we have been able to learn there is no other technical high school in the country where such spontaneous enthusiasm is aroused by the production of a play. The number of candidates for places in the cast is always amazing to the outsider, and the demand for tickets is a perpetual phenomenon even to those who have witnessed it over and over again. Surely, all this is a tribute to our thespians and to the spirit of our students. We have every right to be proud of both—and we are.

To the class of 1934 fell the distinction of presenting the most ambitious drama in the history of the school. "The Spider" was done seven years ago on the professional stage in Boston, with John Halliday as the star. It was later filmed for the "talkies," with Edmund Lowe in the leading role. Both ventures were tremendous successes. They could not be otherwise, for the play is one of the most unusual ever written. It is a succession of surprises and thrills. By turns startling, comic, and bizarre, it is designed to hold the interest of the most blasé theatre goer until the final curtain has fallen.

"The Spider" is extremely difficult to stage, and for this reason very few amateurs have ever attempted it. In the Rindge production more than sixty boys participated. They rehearsed almost daily for nearly two months. Under the direction of Mr. Sullivan, they worked as perhaps no senior drama cast has ever worked before, but, to the last boy, they did it gladly and enthusiastically, because the play appealed to them and because they had spirit enough to want to make it a success.

And what a success it was! Nearly seventeen hundred people witnessed the performance. They crowded into every available corner of the huge auditorium.

For three solid hours they watched and listened, alternately applauding, laughing, and sitting tensely silent as the plot unfolded before them. With a smoothness almost professional the young actors trod the boards. Scarcely any prompting was necessary. Team work was the slogan. There was manifest no desire to shine at the expense of the other fellow, but rather an honest effort on the part of everyone to interpret his own character to the best of his ability and to help the rest of the cast to do likewise.

We shall never forget the work of "Gene" Gieringer, as Chatrand, the magician, of "Ben" Fitzgerald, as Inspector Riley, of Frank Benusis, as Mrs. Wimpleton, of Victor Vasileski, as Alexander. We can still hear the sepulchral voice of George Zeitlen in the seance scene, and the refined falsetto of Victor Benkoski protesting the innocence of Paul. As we look back, the kadeilescope of the whole production passes before our eyes. We see the news reel which greeted us after the overture, the figures of the talented Martelluccis, the tumbling, laugh-provoking Bordens, the nimble footed Robert Higgins, the stimulating trio of "Joe" Connolly "Reggie" Bewes, and "Ray" Hillier. We see little "Eddie" Dennehy announcing (in the costume of a Phillip Morris bell-boy) Chatrand, the magician. Walter Nowosielski appears in the garb of a youthful Frenchman and Frank Wilcinski in the flowing robes of a mandarin. "Bill" Leiser comes running down the aisle, having been summoned by the distracted "Bob" Couture who has never before had a murder committed in his theatre. "Ed" Barber, the ubiquitous reporter, heaves into view, "Joe" Graham, "the old smoothie" villian, appears with the self-effacing "Bernie" Lynam. Arthur Smith struggles vainly to quell the garrulous Mrs. Wimpleton. Paul Manning bellows from the wings. Donald Murray, Robert McIver, Raymond Duane, Walter Saunders and Harry Woodward can still be seen in the orchestra, unsuspected by those about them of any complicity in the plot. Under the balcony are two rough looking characters who know more about what is going on than is evident to the casual observer. We can picture them now as they sagely nudge each other—"Ernie" Ameral and "Bill" Dwyer. All the time we are conscious of the presence of the members of the New York police force. They swarm in from all directions. They seem to be everywhere: "Charlie" Lavoie, John Wilkins, John Melnichuk, Elmer Brigham, "Dimi" Nargoniuk, "Marty" Roscio. Finally we visualize an orchestra which it was both a surprise and a pleasure to hear. These young musicians have been playing together for only a few months. The progress they have made is one of the outstanding achievements of this scholastic year.

To all who contributed in any way to the success of this remarkable drama, the senior class expresses its heartfelt gratitude. We thank Mr. Sullivan, on whose shoulders fell the tremendous responsibility of directing and supervising the entire production, Mr. Mahoney, who so efficiently managed the sale of tickets, Mr. Dennehy, our capable electrician, Mr. Little, vaudeville coach par excellence, Mr. Freni, orchestra leader extraordinary. We appreciate the invaluable services of Mr. Morash, Mr. Richert, Mr. Paine, Mr. Cassidy and Mr. Campbell. We are grateful to all who assisted these men and to the members of the stage, property and make-up crews whose work it was a pleasure to watch.

Without boasting, we may safely say that that the senior drama of 1934 will never be forgotten by those of us who were fortunate enough to see it. It represents the high-water mark of dramatic success at Rindge. May that mark be equalled—may it be surpassed—in the years which are to come.

1934 JUNIOR PROMENADE

DESPITE THE FACT THAT THIS YEAR the Juniors had severe competition from other social and sporting events held on the same night as their prom the event was held and was a financial and social success.

The affair was held on Friday evening, January the 26th in the Gymnasium.

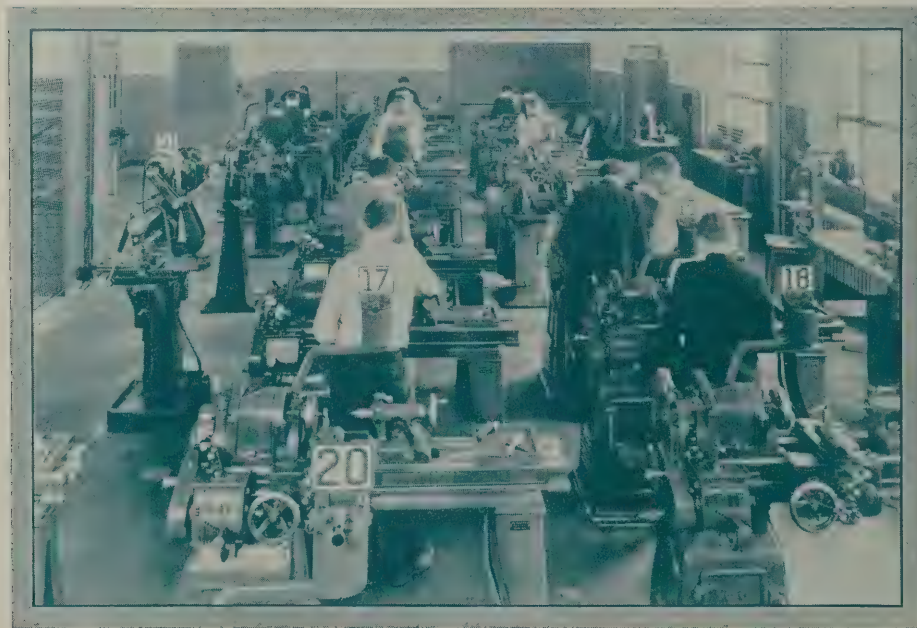

Bringing the Prom date back to January receives an old Junior Class tradition showing that this year's Junior Class is on the job.

The Committee was as follows: President Louis F. Pacheco, Vice-President, Albert A. Sarno, Secretary Joseph A. Ciampi, Treasurer, Paul A. Sullivan, R. Bewes, R. H. White, J. A. Connolly, W. F. Hallisey, J. A. Harrington, T. H. Ford, J. Desmond L. F. Thibodeau, A. W. Collins, and E. Ameral.

Fred Clews and Jimmy Flynn helped the committee considerably, and Mr. W. Kelleher and Mr. J. Little filled in for Mr. Mahoney until he arrived.

The class had as guests: Mr. Wood, Miss Cassidy, Miss Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. W. Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lynch, and Mr. and Mrs. P. Fitzgerald.

The Senior Class congratulates the Junior Class on its wonderful display of organization and looks forward to an up and coming Senior Class to follow in its footsteps.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

MUSIC IS THE ONLY EARTHLY ART which accompanies us on our eternal travels. There is much evidence that this is true from the teachings of the scripture and tradition which state that there were celestial choirs. Music is the essence of culture and refinement, and leads its students to a better appreciation of life and its surroundings. The art is soothing and in times of great tribulation men have resorted to music to calm their spirits. There are three ways in which we lovers of this beautiful art partake: we can write the melodies of our souls, to preserve them for posterity, we may have the ability to express by the use of instruments our musical fevor, or we may be blessed by an appreciative ear and listen to these soul inspired gems. Music is a great contribution to character. Therefore, it is fitting that the students of an exemplary school such as Rindge should be awakened to a wider knowledge of this which embraces manifold attributes that aid in their material and spiritual welfare.

THE HARMONICA BAND

THE RINDGE HARMONICA BAND is the only musical group of its kind anywhere. It was a branch of music that Mr. Wood organized, when he received the idea from the boys who could not play any instrument to make the grade in the band or orchestra. When the first call for candidates was made, it was answered enthusiastically by a group of sixty boys. This group gradually diminished until only twenty-six boys remained.

This group was the original band. Mr. Joseph R. Little was appointed as the leader of this group. Under Mr. Little's leadership and Mr. Wood's aid the band progressed very rapidly. It first appeared at the Parent-Teacher night. It made it's second public appearance when Rindge welcomed one of the best musicians of the country, Mr. Edwin Franko Goldman. This celebrity praised the band very much and was deeply impressed by its playing.

Mr. Wood is going to furnish each boy of this group with an harmonica, from his own personal finances. Mr. Little is very optimistic about the band and we hope with him that it will be a tradition of kindge in years to come.

THE GLEE CLUB

A VERY WELCOME, ENJOYABLE, EDUCATIONAL, AND INTERESTING ADDITION to our new school is the Rindge Glee Club. Under the masterful and capable leadership of Mr. Benedict Fitzgerald this organization has become popular, not only in school but has also sung for many outside entertainments. Great strides have been taken by the Glee Club at Rindge and good singers have been developed out of untrained boys. The Glee Club provides a chance for better fellowship among students and establishes strong friendships which last after graduation.

THE BAND

THE BAND, ONE OF THE NEW MUSICAL GROUPS formed in the new school, has improved rapidly in the past school year. The boys have been helped by the efforts of the instructor, Mr. Freni, who has given his time and personal knowledge of music to make the band one of the best of its kind.

During the football games and other activities the band played an important part. It also played at the dedication of the new school and later played under the direction of one of the greatest of American band leaders, Mr. Edwin Franko Goldman.

Mr. Fitzgerald, superintendent of Music has two purposes for forming a band. One of which was to teach the boys the art of music and other was to occupy the time which would otherwise be unwisely used. The band has become such a part of the school that the boys look forward to weekly rehearsals.

THE ORCHESTRA

RINDGE CAN BOAST of an orchestra only one year old which has already shown its merit to the students and friends of the school. Composed of thirty-seven members playing ten various instruments this fine group under the excellent leadership of Mr. Freni has been co-ordinated into a harmonious musical unit. With Mr. Freni at the helm the orchestra will probably be able to offer in the near future the type of musical program that has made the modern American Symphony group so famous. More and more institutions of learning are realizing the important place that good music holds in their curricula. Edwin Franko Goldman, one of the leading bandmasters in a recent visit to our school remarked, "music is no longer a luxury; it is a necessity." The orchestra will no doubt become one of the regular institutions of our school. With a repertoire of the finest music of our old and modern masters, the group will be able to offer many interesting concerts. Our school has long needed an organization of this type. Too much praise cannot be given to everyone of its members who have so assiduously devoted themselves to insure its success and are endeavoring to give it a place of distinction along with its famous predecessor the school band. Likewise to much credit cannot be given to Mr. Freni who in co-operation with the boys who met weekly for the purpose of practice sessions are doing everything in their power to give our school an orchestra of which we may well be proud. The members are as follows:

L. FERRACANI	E. W. BAKER	R. DANIELSON

THE BUGLE AND DRUM CORPS

THIS GROUP, INSTRUCTED BY EMMETT McNULTY of the graduating class, although organized but a short time, has won many commendations from Mr. Wood, Mr. Fitzgerald, director of music, and high officials of the American Legion. In the very near future, this corps is expected to be the best in the country. It is the only student instructed organization at Rindge.

The Rindge Tech Safety Patrol, under the command of Mr. V. Burke appreciates this additional unit in their line of parade.

CUT IN LINOLEUM BY CLIFFORD N. GEARY

THE SAFETY PATROL

THE SAFETY PATROL reached new heights of success and prosperity under the able direction of Mr. Burke. Due to his forceful interest and zeal, zenith headway was made in the field of Dramatic achievement.

Perhaps the most colorful and most memorable event of the year was the Safety Patrol Play—Gus Enfield's Town Property—which stood out as a silvery star in the firmament of our fame.

The season 1933—34 has borne an especially fruitful crop of faithful members and the Class of '34 in particular, gifted, as it is with many a future military officer, has proudly held high their spotless banners of undying valor in every undertaking on prancing steeds.

Fred Clews won the affection of the entire patrol as our captain, while Jack Donahue captured the title of number two man.

Our heads of the Patrol as you will recall were Fred Clews, Jack Donahue, C. A. Siteman, Alfred Berryman, Eugene Gieringer, William Driscoll, John Chevone, B. Spooner, R. H. White, David Greene, Barney Kennon, W. Shea, S. Zablotsky, Louis Pacheco, John Snook, A. Burbul, and Joseph O'Hannessian.

The P. G's. and Seniors on the squad are as follows: Harry Brown, Louis Stanger, James Allan, Clarence Barrow, Jack Beattie, Leon Brathwaite, Elmer Brigham, Patrick Burns, Elton Clough, C. Cooper, Joseph Downs, William Dywer, James Flynn, Lionel Heywood, W. Horgan, Carl Landi, Charles Lavoie, Michael Lombardi, John Looney, Paul Lyman, John Melnichuk, Arnold Murray, Emmett McNulty, Dim Nagooniuk, V. Nazzaro, W. O'Brien, Humphrey O'Leary, A. Powers, Paul Quinn, Thomas Rielly, Joseph Sheehan, R. Sheldon, George Stavropoulos, Leonard Terrio, Philip Vanstry, E. Walcott, D. Welsh, John White, Peter Wilkalis, John Wilkins, and Stanley Douyotas.

And so ended our Safety Patrol year. The last milestone in our Safety Patrol life has been passed and we part from the portals of our venerable building retaining many rapturous memories of the hours spent while on duty. These memories have strengthened the ties of affection with which we are held bound to our school.

RHO KAPPA PHI FRATERNITY

RHO KAPPA PHI is an honorary society formed for the purpose of promoting good fellowship between the Rindge and Latin Schools. This society is strictly a school activity for all outside affiliations have been tabooed.

It has a limited membership and one's life is enriched by this fraternity. Only those boys who qualified in scholarship, character, and service to their fellow students, in accordance with the standards set by the society, alone, are offered invitations.

Once entering this fraternity one has no trouble in locating congenial friends whose tastes coincide with his own.

The officers for 1933—34 were;

PRESIDENT, JAMES FLYNN
SECRETARY, HARRY BROWN

VICE-PRESIDENT, MIKE MACDONALD
TREASURER, FRED CLEWS

OUR HOME ROOM REPRESENTATIVES

THIS ORGANIZATION WAS FORMED in the latter part of September and is composed of one member from each home room in the school. The boys elect their own officers and hold their meetings in the auditorium after school. It was originated with the intention that it should create a spirit of co-operation between school activities and the student body, and it has filled this capacity with marked success as is evidenced by the way in which the class activities have been supported during the past year.

In the future it is planned to give it powers similiar to those of the student councils of other schools, and if it continues in the future as it has during the first year of its existence it will be a credit and an asset to the school.

THE CAMERA CLUB

ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT ORGANIZATIONS founded since we entered our new building was the Camera Club. The success of this club is due entirely to the untiring efforts of Mr. Peter J. Cassidy. He grouped together in the beginning a few boys who were interested in photography. Since that time the club has been swamped with applications for membership.

This year the club attempted a stupendous job and successfully completed this undertaking. The club photographed each member of the Senior and P. G. classes and took all group pictures used in this year book.

The Class of 1934 offers a vote of thanks and appreciation to the Camera Club for its part in making this year book a success. The Class realizes full well the long tedious hours its members spent trying to make some of us look at least human and after looking at some of the pictures we are convinced that the club should change its name from the Camera Club to the Miracle Club.

The following boys had charge of the photography work herein depicted:

VICE-PRESIDENT	---	HENRY MARCELONIS
SECRETARY	---	FRED CLEWS
TREASURER	---	EDWARD GRAY
BUSINESS-MANAGER---		FRED CLEWS

PHOTOGRAPHERS—E. M. DOWNES, T. TRAPILO, V. SUCHWALKO, A. McAULIFFE, V. BOCZANOWSKI and OTTO OTTENS.

Later, on the basketball team Captain Mel Byington, Wally Kishkis, Vito Robak and Frank Ruggieri reigned supreme. Representation on hockey and baseball teams was as noteworthy also.

While the rest of the school was busy gathering erudition, George Zeitlen and Joe Graham with the other members of the cast and Mr. Sullivan's coaching made an unusual success of the Senior Drama, "The Spider."

On the Register Staff of that year were several Seniors among which were Arthur Martellucci as Senior Editor and Edgar Breed as Exchange Editor. Later Arthur Martellucci was elected Editor of this Year Book and Fred Illian as Assistant Editor.

An accident in which the Seniors lost their money necessitated the presentation of another Senior Drama. Many boys were on the committees of both dramas.

As this book goes to press, graduation and a Senior Prom at the Walker Memorial are being contemplated.

The sage is finished.

"Is there anything more?" asks the young man.

"Yes," he replies, "two dollars, please."

“WHISPERING WIRES”

WHISPERING WIRES, EXTRA EDITION OF THE SENIOR DRAMA was produced on Friday evening, May 11, before a crowd of 600 people. It was not to be expected that the enthusiasm attending the performance of "The Spider" would be sustained for two months, but the cordial reception given this second mystery play was another remarkable demonstration of the spirit of Rindge Tech.

"Whispering Wires" was done under tremendous handicaps. The unfortunate occurrence in March had left the Seniors with an absolutely depleted treasury and a huge stack of bills. The year book had to be paid for, the reception financed, the class gift purchased, and numerous other smaller obligations to be met. The only feasible and popular method of raising funds was to produce a second play. When this was proposed offers of support and co-operation came from all directions. It seemed that every boy in the school was eager to buy at least one ticket. When the call for candidates for places in the cast was issued, more than seven-five responded. Rehearsals began immediately, tickets were printed and distributed, committees began to function. Activity was almost feverish.

Then came word that the stolen money might be recovered. With the apprehension of the participants in the disgraceful March episode, this seemed very possible. But the new play had been in rehearsal too long to abandon its production. Even with the money restored it would not have been advisable to give up the enterprise. "The play must go on."

One week before actual production the missing funds were returned. Despite this fact, and despite the lateness of the year, the play did go on and proved to be a splendid success. Each boy in the cast interpreted his part like a veteran, though some of them had never before participated in Rindge theatricals. It would be unfair to single out any one for special commendation. Suffice it to say that "Whispering Wires" upheld the dramatic traditions of Rindge. The actors showed themselves to be real troupers, and too much credit cannot be given them for their cooperation and for the excellence of their performance.

The cast was as follows:

MONTGOMERY STOCKBRIDGE	JAMES FLYNN
BARRY MCGILL	EUGEN P. GIERINGER

MISS ROGERS LEAVES

AS WE WERE LOOKING FORWARD TO GRADUATION with earnest hopes we witnessed the boys of the college course suffer a severe loss. Miss Rogers, who has for years been the spirit behind the success that Rindge boys have attained in college board examinations, was transferred to Cambridge Latin School. Miss Rogers worked hard and diligently so that Rindge might be proud of the record the boys aspiring to college attained. She took a personal interest in each boy that came under her supervision.

The Senior Class wishes Miss Rogers to know that we deeply regret her passing from the ranks of our faculty and are envious of the gain of our neighbors. Those of the Senior Class who have come in contact with you, Miss Rogers, will appreciate your deep interest in them more and more as the years roll by.

We the class of 1934 wish for Miss Rogers many years of continued health so that the youth of Cambridge may have the benefit derived from being under the guidance of so capable a teacher.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

TO CARRY OUT THE VARIOUS DUTIES connected with the year book the editor and his staff have been assisted by certain members of the faculty, who in no small way are responsible for this volume. The Senior Class wishes to express its profound gratitude to the following members of the faculty.

To Mr. Henry C. Richert who supervised the art work connected with this volume. He gave unstintingly of his time and advice so that we might in future years enjoy this book.

To Mr. Edward Sullivan, and Mr. William McLaughlin for the write-ups they contributed.

To Mr. Peter Cassidy for the photographic work carried on by the Camera Club under his direction. This was a notable step forward and to Mr. Cassidy alone goes the credit for the quality of the pictures within these covers.

Also to the Rindge Register, for co-operation, data, and financial assistance which it yearly renders to the Year Book until its revenue from the Senior Drama is available.

As we leave the walls of Rindge we, the Senior Class of 1934 will always feel a warm spot in our hearts for these men.

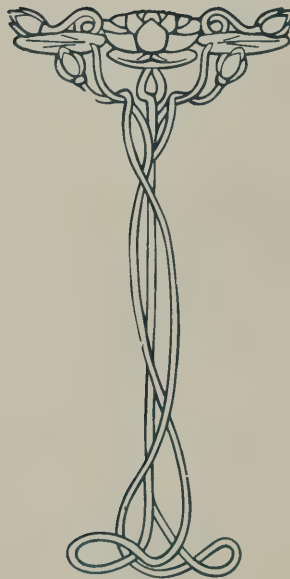

EPILOGUE

CUT IN LINOLEUM BY ALBERT CIRIACO PETITTO

. . . EPILOGUE . . .

WE THE CLASS OF '34 must soon pass through that colossal gate which divides two worlds, one of bliss and assistance, the other a cruel and fallacious kingdom. Our hardships, our defeats, our struggles, and our conquerings are the perpetuated memories we leave behind. When we wander afar from the stage of affectionate by-gone times we can renew the gallant visionary of our youth by seeing once again the physiognomies of our companions-in-arms, and by reading and kindling anew those precious years we wish we could re-live.
